

Winter Reading and Math Clubs at Clarlen

Begins December 2 & 4

Children bring their lunch to school and stay after for enrichment clubs!

Little Readers Club 11:45 (dismissal)-1:00 on Mondays

Come listen to literature and engage in activities to develop phonemic and phonological awareness and handwriting. Activities will consist of rhyming and games to play with sounds and syllables. Handwriting instruction is a multi-sensory approach to proper letter formation that focuses on recognizing upper and lowercase letters and sounds. Each week your child will take home books that will help develop concepts of print and an understanding of the sound/symbol relationship as they map sounds they know to the printed letter. When ready, students will begin to sound blend, decode and develop a sight word vocabulary. Instruction aligns with the Howard County Preschool and Kindergarten Curriculum and the Science of Reading to incorporate phonemic awareness, phonics, decoding, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension. Optional homework will include handwriting practice, and phonics worksheets. Parents will receive an email summarizing each week's lesson. Extension ideas as well as learning games will be suggested.

Math and Thinking Club 11:45 (dismissal)-1:00 on Wednesdays

Math Club provides math instruction in a fun way and hands-on multisensory approach for preschoolers. Included will be math learning centers and games overlaid with thinking strategies, math literature connections, hands-on lessons and a variety of math activities tied to the Howard County Kindergarten Curriculum. Parents will receive an email after each class summarizing what we worked on, photos of what we did, and ways to do math at home. They will receive optional math homework worksheets each week as follow-up to the lessons! This club fosters fun, strategic thinkers and develops a strong number sense!
